

Apleicious Note Cards

There's nothing more thoughtful than handmade note cards. And, what can be more exciting than involving the little ones in making them? Make a wonderful craft activity out of the exercise.

Supplies

- Red and green paints
- Flat dish
- Precut out note cards
- Old newspaper to cover the art area

Directions

1. Spread the old newspaper on a flat surface where you plan to work on the activity.
2. Dilute the red paint with water on the flat dish.
3. Have your child press her palm, without the fingers, on the paint and then on the display side of the note card.
4. Let the paint dry.
5. Squeeze green paint on another flat dish but don't dilute it.
6. Have your child press her thumb on the slushy paint and press it on the note card, above the apples, to form leaves. Make sure the green paint is thick in consistency so that the leaves have a 3-D effect.
7. Note cards are ready to greet!
